Introduction of Shuzo

SUISHIN YAMANE HONTEN (Mihara city)

Established in 1860. In the middle of the Meiji period, SUISHIN was born by combining their original 20 types of sake into one. SUISHIN is known as the sake that Taikan Yokoyama, one of masters of Japanese painting, loved all his life. This brewery is pursuing the high quality sake that has elegant taste and never be gotten tired of drinking.

KIREI SHUZO (Higashi Hiroshima city)

Established in 1868. In the early Meiji period, "KIREI" was named with meaning longevity and eternal prosperity by Kotaro Ishii, the family head. This brewery has been making clean and dry taste sake.

AIHARA SHUZO (Kure city)

Established in 1875. "UGO NO TSUKI" (moon after the rain) was named by the second generation Itatu Aihara. The name comes from a short essay in a collection of essays titled Nature and Life published by the author Roka Tokutomi. This brewery has been making sake that has a soft and gentle taste with super soft water.
